WORK IN SECRET

Two Men Who Spy on the Purchasing Public.

No One Who Buys on Credit Can Escape Them.

BY THE CARD INDEX SYSTEM

Records Are Kept and Are Always Available.

Credit Man'll Get You if You Don't Watch Out.

Tucked away in a box like room on the sixth floor of the New England building two men can be found daily working like beavers assorting cards and answering hundreds of telephone calls. Probably not one hundred people in Topeka know either of them by sight or name for their place of business does not appear on the door nor in the telephone directory nor in the city directory. Yet they know more about the honesty of the people of Topeka than any two men in the city. They're the secretary and his assistant of the Topeka Credit House association.

As secret as the work done by the association was an annual meeting of its members held at the Commercial club last night. Some of the wealthiest bankers, merchants, druggists and representative men of other lines of business were present and proclaimed the three year old organization one of the most essential in the business life of Topeka.

Credit Men Directors.
Directors were elected for the second time and it was decided that the success of the association warranted the election of officers and they will be selected at a later meeting. The directors include J. Ernest Jones, assistant cashier of the Merchants' National bank; Cyrus L. E. Edwards, credit man for Crosby Bros.; William Jacob, Jr., credit man for Emanuel Spielman; Frank W. Griggs, credit man for I. W. Fells; Eugene D. Spickerman, credit man for Warren M. Crosby; Ralph W. Rader, credit man for the Davis Mercantile company; Charles W. McCord, credit man for the Palace Clothing company; Robert E. Austin, credit man for the W. A. L. Thompson Hardware company.

50,000 Ask for Credit.

Reports made by the secretary indicated that 50,000 people in Topeka and vicinity call for credit and a card index of the credit transactions of every one of the 50,000 in every store of the association is maintained by the secretary. A man may pay a creditor promptly, a druggist gets his money after much difficulty and the hardware man can't get a cent out of him. He goes to a dry goods store and asks for credit. The credit man calls the secretary and from the card index a full history of the man's transactions is given to the inquirer and he governs his extension of credit to the customer accordingly. The father, son and daughter in a family are all indexed separately. From March, 1915, to March, 1916, the association has answered 11,539 inquiries from merchants. In March, 1915, 379 inquiries were made, while in March, 1916, the secretary answered 1,656.

AT THE THEATERS

At the Orpheum.
"The Flying Torpedo" at the Orpheum today and tonight shows John Emerson in a spectacular Triangle preparedness play. The writer with the remarkable imagination pictures a foreign invasion in 1921 in which the new warfare, inventions play havoc with property and defensive structures.

The comedy tonight gives Fred Mace and Anna Luther a good chance to win applause in "The Village Vampire." Shannon and McCormick please note the names—the "German" song birds give a good vaudeville act. Calkins' orchestra renders almost a continuous performance.

Cartier De Haven's "Nifty."
Cartier De Haven, who is the star in the Bluebird Photoplay, "The Wrong Door," which will be shown at the Cozy theater today and tomorrow, happened to meet an old friend in Los Angeles the other day.

"Have you seen you on the stage for some time—what are you doing now days, Cartier?" asked the o. f. answered the diminutive comedian. "I've left the talkies and joined the movies."

At the Iris.
One of the most remarkable photo dramas ever presented to lovers of the screened play is "The Woman in 47," at the Iris theater today and tonight. It tells the story of a young Italian girl who, to escape the tyranny of a cruel uncle and to marry her lover, comes to America, becomes the victim of the machinations of a villain of some unscrupulous men, but finally wins happiness and peace.

Alice Brady, the heroine of the piece, is one of the most widely and best known of American screen stars.

At the Grand.
The Washburn Dramatic club will present at the Grand theater, April 8, of "You Never Can Tell," one of the most enjoyable comedies of George Bernard Shaw. This playwright hardly needs an introduction to an audience at all familiar with contemporary literature. His unique personality has probably inspired more comment and discussion than any other man of letters in the world. The student who college actors' production went on sale Friday morning at the Grand box office.

Ship Held Up, Starts Out Again.
Delaware Breakwater, Del. April 7.—The British steamer Matoppe, whose captain and crew of 55 men were held up single handed on the high sea last week by Ernest Schiller now under arrest in New York, resumed her voyage today to Vladivostok. The steamer sailed from New York March 23, with a cargo of barbed wire and railroad ties for the Russian government. The Matoppe had been in harbor here more than a week, while a search of the ship was made for supposed bombs which Schiller said he had placed in her hold.

Golden Belt Doctors Meet.
Junction City, Kan., April 7.—Thirty central Kansas physicians and surgeons are attending the annual meeting of the Golden Belt Medical society here today. Among the speakers of the program are two Kansas City men, Dr. P. T. Bohan and Dr. Jantz B. Jackson.

TRY BANK PRES. MURDOCK ON T. R.

W. B. Slaughter in Court; Son, Cashier, a Fugitive.

Charged With Wrecking Mercantile Nat'l of Pueblo.

Pueblo, April 7.—William B. Slaughter of Dallas, Texas, former president of the closed Mercantile National bank of Pueblo, faced trial in federal district court here today on an indictment returned by a federal grand jury at Pueblo last October, specifying 35 counts charging violation of the federal banking laws. These include misapplication and embezzlement of funds, abstraction of assets and making false entries. The trial is expected to involve a detailed recital of the financial operations of the former president and his son, Coney Slaughter, former cashier of the institution.

Cashier in Honduras.
Coney Slaughter was jointly indicted with his father. The former cashier is a fugitive and is now believed to be in Honduras with his wife and one of their children.

The bank was closed March 29, 1915, upon order of G. W. Goodall, bank examiner, following the disappearance of Coney Slaughter. Harry B. Tedrow, United States district attorney, is directing the prosecution. Joseph Bailey, former United States senator from Texas, is chief counsel for the defendant, and more than fifty witnesses have been summoned to his testimony in his behalf.

Control of the Mercantile National bank, with deposits aggregating more than $1,500,000, was secured by William B. Slaughter in 1911.

G. A. R. 50 YEARS OLD

Lincoln Circle Celebrates Anniversary of the Order's Founding.

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Grand Army of the Republic was celebrated last evening at the Lincoln Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., in the G. A. R. hall on East Sixth street. Guests of honor were members of Lincoln Post No. 1, G. A. R. Interesting talks were made by men and women, in which reminiscences of the founding of the famous order were indulged in.

The singing "America," led by A. M. Fuller, opened the program. Mrs. A. E. Goodrich spoke on "Ladies of the G. A. R.," followed by a solo by Miss Gladys Dougherty. Other features of the program were: solo, Leland McAfee; reading, Doris McAllister; song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," reading, Miss Clara Lenham; solo, Miss Juanita McDonald.

An interesting story concerning the founding of the Grand Army was told by Corwin A. Meek, department commander of the G. A. R. for Kansas. A grand march, in which ladies exercised the right of leap year, was another feature of the evening's entertainment.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?
This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-fuels are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness.

Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

One in Hundred Million.
"Colonel Roosevelt is the one man in a hundred million who had the foresight, fearlessness, wisdom and courage to see the national danger and round the alarm so that all men might hear. He took a stand at the very heart of the swirling stream in which everybody can cling. He is not a pacifist, but a pacifier."
